GiVE. GR🌱W. EVOlve.

School students volunteering

Implementing student volunteering

By introducing volunteering concepts and experiences into school curriculum, students achieve significant benefits to their learning, wellbeing and development. It also provides an opportunity for students to develop their entrepreneurial and work ready skills.

This workshop will provide education and care staff with support to implement the Department for Education's online student volunteer - teacher tools.

We will take you step by step through the resources and share with you templates, lesson plans and a wide range of information to help build on volunteering work that students are already doing or which will help to create a new volunteer program that links to the Australian curriculum. Teachers can make changes to the resources to suit students' age and abilities.

Date:	Tuesday 13 August 2019
Venue:	Café Outside the Square 34 Whitmore Square, Adelaide
Time:	10am-2pm. Lunch will be provided
Audience:	School, preschool and flexible learning options educators interested in integrating volunteering concepts and experiences as part of students' everyday school activities and/or linking it to the curriculum
Register:	Department for Education staff: Via Plink. Search in the catalogue for course 'Student volunteering' – 13 August 2019 session Independent & Catholic Education staff: Via education.volunteers@sa.gov.au

Pre reading: To access the resources visit education.sa.gov.au/student-volunteers

Facilitators: Heidi Unferdorben, Senior Policy and Project Officer, Volunteers, Department for Education and Tracey Wallace, Service Learning Coordinator, Scotch College Adelaide

Enquiries: education.volunteers@sa.gov.au or 8226 3795

Government of South Australia
Department for Education